

Swinerton Empowers Young Community Developers

A key element in the success of the partnership between Swinerton and the communities we work with to change for the better is building relationships. Through our strong relationship with the non-profit Young Community Developers (YCD), we receive many projects in economically depressed neighborhoods in San Francisco, for which we are noted. YCD specializes in preparing those with barriers to employment for current and future workforce needs and is committed to preparing clients for employment opportunities.

Swinerton recently partnered with YCD to provide training and employment opportunities to local residents in the Bayview/Hunters Point area while renovating the Boys & Girls Club of San Francisco. Additionally, Swinerton donated $5,000 to the organization for purchasing construction tools, paying union dues and supportive services to assist their future pre-apprentices with meeting the necessary requirements to enter the construction industry.
